

uCheck Client Privacy Policy

uCheck Limited (“uCheck”, also referred to as “we”, “us” or “our” throughout this privacy policy) respects your privacy and is committed to protecting your personal data. This privacy policy will inform you as to how we look after your personal data and tell you about your privacy rights and how the law protects you.

Throughout this policy we refer to “you”, the client contact or authorised user, and “your” personal data and legal rights.

This privacy policy covers the following:

- our website www.ucheck.co.uk (“website”)
- our systems <https://www.hr-platform.co.uk/app> and <https://www.dbsassist.co.uk/ucheck/> (“systems”)
- our business contact databases

uCheck is responsible for the website, systems and databases.

Whenever you visit and use our website, use our systems or provide us with your personal data, this privacy policy will apply to how we process your personal data. If you do not agree with how we process your personal data, we suggest that you stop using our website and/or systems immediately. This privacy policy will also apply where we hold your business contact data on our databases.

The website and/or systems are not intended for children and we do not knowingly collect data relating to children.

Please note: the website and systems may include links to third-party websites, plug-ins and applications. Clicking on those links or enabling those connections may allow third parties to collect or share data about you. We do not control these third-party websites and are not responsible for their privacy statements or processing activities. When you leave our website or systems, we encourage you to read the privacy policy of every website you visit.

What is personal data?

Personal data, or personal information, means any information about an individual from which that person can be identified. It does not include data where the identity has been removed (anonymous data).

Our role

uCheck acts as a data controller of the personal data we collect and process about you, in order to provide you with an online vetting and screening service and to grant you access to our system(s) as an authorised user or contact. Please refer to our Applicant Privacy Policy for details on how we process applicant personal data.

Types of personal data and how we use it

We may collect, use, store and/or transfer the following types of personal data about you where you are a business contact or registered as an authorised user:

- Personal information: including your title, forename, surname and date of birth (where required)
- Contact data: including email address, company address and company telephone number(s)

- Technical data: including internet protocol (IP) address, your log-in data for our systems, browser type and version, time zone setting and location, browser plug-in types and versions, operating system and platform, and other technology on the devices you use to access our website and/or systems
- Usage data: including information about how you use our website and/or systems, products and services
- Profile and transaction data: including your payment and purchase history with us (but not your card payment details), together with your interests, preferences, feedback and survey responses

How we collect your data

We use different methods to collect personal data from and about you, including through:

Direct interactions: you may be asked to provide certain identity and contact data by filling in the forms on our website and/or systems, or by corresponding with us by post, telephone or email. The following activities will require the provision of certain personal data:

- completing information required to register for our services and/or to gain access to our system(s) as an authorised user
- completing information in order to enter a uCheck competition, promotion or survey
- providing us with feedback or contacting us

Automated technologies or interactions: as you interact with our website and/or systems, we will automatically collect technical data about your equipment, browsing actions and patterns. We collect this personal data by using cookies, server logs and other similar technologies. Please see our cookies policy (available on our website) for further details.

Obtaining contact data from a third-party supplier: we may have obtained your business contact data from a third-party supplier/database for the purpose of lead generation.

Purposes for which we will use your data

We have set out below, in a table format, a description of the ways we plan to use your personal data, and which of the legal bases we rely on to do so. We have also identified what our legitimate interests are where appropriate.

Note that we may process your personal data for more than one lawful ground depending on the specific purpose for which we are using your data. Please contact us if you need details about the specific legal ground we are relying on to process your personal data where more than one ground has been set out in the table below.

Please note, we will always be a data controller when processing your personal data for the purposes set out below.

Purpose/activity	Type of data	Lawful basis for processing

Utilising business contact data obtained from a third-party supplier/database to generate business-to-business sales leads as part of direct marketing campaigns	Personal information Contact data	Necessary for our legitimate interests (for business-to-business direct marketing activities)

Whenever we refer to relying on our legitimate interests, please note that we will always carry out a "balancing" test to make sure that we consider and safeguard your rights.

How we disclose your personal data

We may need to share your personal data with other parties for the reasons set out below.

External third parties

- Service providers acting as processors or sub-processors based in the United Kingdom who provide IT and system administration services.
- Professional advisers acting as processors or joint controllers including lawyers, bankers, auditors and insurers based in the United Kingdom who provide consultancy, banking, legal, insurance and accounting services.
- Third party card payment providers who process your card details for the payment of an application and who act as data controllers in their own right: Stripe, Inc <https://stripe.com/gb/privacy>
- HM Revenue & Customs, regulators and other authorities acting as processors or joint controllers based in the United Kingdom who require reporting of processing activities in certain circumstances.
- Third parties to whom we may choose to sell, transfer or merge parts of our business or our assets. Alternatively, we may seek to acquire other businesses or merge with them. If a change happens to our business, then the new owners may use your personal data in the same way as set out in this privacy policy.

We require all third parties to respect the security of your personal data and to treat it in accordance with the law. We do not allow our third-party service providers (where acting as sub-processors) to use your personal data for their own purposes and only permit them to process your personal data for specified purposes and in accordance with our instructions.

Change of Purpose

We will only use your personal data for the purposes for which we say we collect it, unless we reasonably consider that we need to use it for another reason and that reason is compatible with the original purpose. If at any time you wish to obtain an explanation as to how any processing for a new purpose is compatible with our original purpose, please contact us at: governance@ucheck.co.uk or using the additional details set out in this policy.

If we need to use your personal data for an unrelated purpose, we will notify you and we will explain the legal basis which allows us to do so.

Please note that we may process your personal data without your knowledge or consent, in compliance with the above rules, where this is required or permitted by law.

Marketing

We only use your personal data for our own marketing purposes where we have obtained your business contact data from a third-party lead generation service and we are contacting you for the first time or you have opted in to receiving communication from us. If you wish to opt-out of receiving marketing communications from us, you can do so at any time by using the “unsubscribe” option within any marketing email received or contacting us at: governance@ucheck.co.uk

Third-Party Marketing

We do not, at this time, use your personal data for third-party marketing purposes. If in the future, we wish to use your personal data for marketing communications, we will ensure we have a valid lawful basis to do so.

Cookies

You can set your browser to refuse all or some browser cookies, or to alert you when websites set or access cookies. If you disable or refuse cookies, please note that some parts of the website and/or systems may become inaccessible or not function properly. For more information about the cookies we use, please see our cookies policy, available on our website.

Data Security and Data Retention

Data security is of great importance to us, and to protect your personal data we have put in place suitable physical, electronic and managerial procedures to safeguard and secure data collected through our website and/or systems. We have put in place appropriate security measures to prevent your personal data from being accidentally lost, used or accessed in an unauthorised way, altered or disclosed. In addition, we limit access to your personal data to those employees, agents, contractors and other third parties who have a business need to do so. They will only process your personal data on our instructions, and they are subject to a duty of confidentiality.

We will only retain your personal data for as long as reasonably necessary to fulfil the purposes we collected it for, including for the purposes of satisfying any legal, regulatory, tax, accounting or reporting requirements. We may retain your personal data for a longer period in the event of a complaint or if we reasonably believe there is a prospect of litigation in respect to our relationship with you.

Details of retention periods for different aspects of your personal data are available in our retention policy. For further information on our data security and data retention arrangements, please email: governance@ucheck.co.uk

Your legal rights

Under certain circumstances, you have rights under data protection laws in relation to your personal data.

You have the right to:

- Request access to your personal data (i.e. ask us for copies of your personal information). You can read more about the right on the ICO’s website, here: <https://ico.org.uk/your-data-matters/your-right-of-access/>

Please note, in relation to this right:

- What we will need from you: We may need to request specific information from you to help us confirm your identity and ensure your right to access your personal data (or to exercise any of your other rights as set out here).
- Response time: We try to respond to all legitimate requests within one month. Occasionally it could take us longer than a month if your request is particularly complex or you have made a number of requests. In this case, we will notify you and keep you updated.
- Request correction of the personal data that we hold about you. This right always applies. You can read more about this right on the ICO's website, here: <https://ico.org.uk/your-data-matters/your-right-to-get-your-data-corrected/>
- Request erasure of your personal data. This enables you to ask us to delete or remove personal data where there is no good reason for us continuing to process it. You can read more about the right on the ICO's website, here: <https://ico.org.uk/your-data-matters/your-right-to-get-your-data-deleted/>
- Object to processing of your personal data where we are relying on a legitimate interest (or those of a third party) in order to process it and you feel our processing impacts on your fundamental rights and freedoms. You can read more about this right on the ICO's website, here: <https://ico.org.uk/your-data-matters/the-right-to-object-to-the-use-of-your-data/>
- Request restriction of processing of your personal data. This enables you to ask us to suspend or restrict the processing of your personal data in certain circumstances. You can read more about this right on the ICO's website, here: <https://ico.org.uk/your-data-matters/your-right-to-limit-how-organisations-use-your-data/>
- Data portability. This right only applies to information you have given us. You have the right to ask that we transfer the information you gave us from one organisation to another or give it to you. You can read more about this right on the ICO's website, here: <https://ico.org.uk/your-data-matters/your-right-to-data-portability/>
- Withdraw consent at any time where we are relying on consent to process your personal data. However, this will not affect the lawfulness of any processing carried out before you withdraw your consent.
- Automated decision-making. We will not use your personal data for the purposes of automated decision-making.

If you wish to exercise any of the rights set out above, please contact us at: governance@ucheck.co.uk, or using the additional details set out in this policy.

Changes to this Privacy Policy

We will review this privacy policy regularly and update it if necessary. Any updates to this privacy policy will be posted on our website and systems.
